

LeMay Visions Threat of War Is Increasing

NEW YORK (UP)—Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force vice chief of staff, said today the threat of global atomic war is increasing "with every passing day."

Army and Navy chiefs contended, however, that nuclear "stalemate" between the United States and Russia makes limited or brush fire wars more likely than all-out conflict.

Sharp differences on the threat America faces and the weapons it needs were unfolded in speeches at the annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn.

LeMay, long-time commander of U.S. retaliatory bomber forces, said America faces a "savage, uphill battle... day in and day out" to stay ahead and deter a Russian-launched nuclear holocaust.

Some Different Opinions... He outlined some of the new weapons being developed for the Strategic Air Command, such as the B70 bomber which will go 2,000 miles an hour, and the "minute man" ballistic missile which he said will have "startling potential."

"There is no threat to the security of the United States that can remotely compare with the ever present possibility of general war," he said.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, told the publishers, on the other hand, that the United States was "probably justified in assuming that neither side would voluntarily start a general atomic war."

He said "atomic parity" with both sides able to destroy each other, brings about "mutual deterrence."

4 Cent Stamp May Be Passed by Congress

By PATRICIA WIGGINS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Congress appeared today likely to pass a four-cent postage rate for both local and out-of-town letters.

A Senate-House conference committee rebuffed President Eisenhower Wednesday by rejecting the administration's proposal for a five-cent rate for out-of-town letters. Both House and Senate bills provide a four-cent local mail rate. The House bill sets the same one-cent increase for out-of-town mail; the Senate bill provides for a five-cent out-of-town rate.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) said chances were good the Senate would back the compromise on the House figure. Monroney led the unsuccessful fight against the five-cent rate which was passed by the Senate in February by a vote of 49 to 42. He said senators found opposition to the boost over the present three-cent postage during the Easter recess.

To Interview Farm Workers About Jobs

Unemployed farm workers will be interviewed at 10 a. m. Friday, April 25, at the Hope Employment Office for seasonal work in the Wisconsin pea harvest.

Marvin Kyle, Personnel Director, Green Giant Company, Beaver Dam, Wis., and Herbert Whitehead, Chief of Clearance, Employment Security Division, Little Rock, will be in Hope to screen and select employees and applicants for this annual seasonal employment.

Free transportation, lodging and quarters are provided by the company. Workers from the Hope area have been going to Wisconsin for the last five years and have returned to the Hope area in time for the cotton picking season.

Teddy Jones, Manager of the Hope local office, today urged all who are interested in going to Wisconsin to report for interview Friday morning.

Doubts Nose Cone Will Be Found

By LLOYD HOLBECK
United Press Staff Correspondent

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UP)—The Air Force ballistic missile commander said today he doubts the new ICBM nose cone fired far out over the Atlantic Wednesday night will ever be recovered.

Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, the missile chief, told the House Space Committee in Washington it will be a couple of days before there is a complete evaluation of the combined Thor-Vanguard missile test firing but that "as of now we have not recovered the nose cone and I don't think we ever will."

Schriever said that failure to recover the nose cone means that the test was not a "complete success."

The Air Force blasted the towering, foreboding of its moon rocket into the sky here Wednesday night, primarily to try out a new idea for getting a nose cone back through the atmosphere from space.

Preliminary unofficial estimates were that the rocket, aimed at a target area in the ocean 4,300 miles (statute miles), may have gone only about 3,600 miles.

Meanwhile the Navy was readying a complete Vanguard rocket for a try soon to put into orbit around the earth a fourth U.S. satellite—a 20-inch, 21½-pound sphere designed to measure and report back on X-ray activity around the globe.

Schriever slipped away from answering questions on how far the Thor-Vanguard combination rocket actually was fired.

He said scientists did get some data from the missile by radio during its flight as far as Antigua in the West Indies.

Spring Snows Hit Rocky Mountains

By UNITED PRESS

A massive spring storm that dumped 10 to 30 inches of snow in sections of the Rockies and the northern plains rolled eastward today, triggering threatening tornado funnels and drenching rains in the Midwest.

A vicious squall line raged early today from Missouri into Illinois and southern Wisconsin. Weathermen warned of possible tornadoes or locally damaging thunderstorms as the unstable air mass swept eastward through southern Illinois and into western Indiana.

Heavy snows Wednesday stranded the mountain town of Red Lodge, Mont., under more than 30 inches, and up to 10 inches of snow jammed traffic at Salt Lake City, Utah.

Note to Give Challenge to Russia

LONDON (UP)—The Western allies will deliver a note to Russia this afternoon challenging the Kremlin to state squarely whether the Soviets still want a summit conference.

The note from the United States, Britain and France is to be delivered in Moscow this afternoon and published later today.

The diplomatic sources said the note:

—asks the Soviets if they are still prepared to hold pre-summit diplomatic talks in Moscow.

—rejects Moscow's insistence on talking with the three Western ambassadors separately and insists that any summit preparatory discussions must be with all three together.

—reiterates the Western stand that the diplomatic talks should try to solve main east-west issues likely to come up in a summit meeting.

Doubled State Income Tax to Hit 100,000

By LLOYD HOLBECK
United Press Staff Correspondent

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—The state income tax returns are coming in more than 100,000 Arkansas will pay 1957 income taxes—compared to 68,550 last year.

The reason for the increase is that the 1957 change in the state law which did away with exemptions on gross income and substituted "credits" subtracted from the money owed the state after the tax is figured.

The director of the income tax division of the revenue department, Roby Bearden, estimated 40,000 taxable returns will be in by the end of April, compared to 26,000 at the same time last year.

Bearden said the state will realize about $4,000,000 from the changed tax system, as predicted, but not more than half of it will come in this fiscal year. The remainder will be paid when taxpayers send in the second half of their income tax next November, he said.

"In the last five years, the average has been about 35 per cent of returns in by the end of April, so I think I can estimate over 100,000 taxable returns will be filed this year," Bearden said.

He estimated another 50,000 tax returns will be filed this year.

Senate Bill Would Regulate Union Funds

By UNITED PRESS

The Senate took up today a controversial bill to regulate union welfare funds amid sharp exchanges by the chamber's rival party leaders.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas accused GOP Leader William F. Knowland of California of trying to saddle the bill with "a lot of anti-labor legislation."

Knowland, fresh from a conference on the measure with President Eisenhower, fired back that the AFL-CIO is trying to back amendments which he has proposed.

Elsewhere in Congress: Rivers & Harbors: Knowland introduced a new rivers and harbors public works bill, containing none of the 28 disputed projects which caused President Eisenhower to veto the first bill last week.

Knowland called the new proposal a "clean" bill and said it should be acceptable to everyone.

Johnson said it was not acceptable to him. "I'm not going to let the Budget Bureau pick and pick and tell us what we can have in the bill," Johnson said. Knowland said Congress should vote the projects endorsed by the administration and then tackle the disputed projects.

Parachutists Dragged to Death by Wind

FORT CAMPBELL, Ky. (UP)—

Freak gusts of wind were blamed today for the deaths of five paratroopers, fatally dragged by their parachutes in a mass jump of 1,800 men.

More than 100 others were hospitalized after the jump Wednesday. The injured and dead all landed at the extreme northern edge of the big drop zone where gusts dragged helpless paratroopers over rocky terrain, dotted with trees.

The accident happened during the 101st Airborne Division's war game exercise "Eagle Wing."

Sons of the dragged paratroopers were traveling at such speed that spectators were unable to overtake their chutes and cut them loose.

Maj. L. A. Braut, information officer for the division, said five of the men were dead on arrival at the base hospital.

Victims Listed
The Defense Department at Washington identified the victims as Pfc. Michael E. Robles, son of Michael Robles of New York City; Pfc. Alfonso L. Martinez, son of Mrs. Julia P. Martinez of Santa Fe, N.M.; Pfc. Elliott F. Morley, son of Mrs. Olga Roberts Morley of Miami, Fla.; Sfc. Carl G. Payne, husband of Mrs. Phyllis Ann Payne of Clarksville, Tenn.; and Pfc. Dany J. Ruffin, son of Danny R. Ruffin of Hamilton, Ohio.

Bearden said 137 men were hospitalized but that none of these appeared to be in critical condition. "There were a few broken bones," he said, "but most of them just had cuts and bruises and should be released within a few days."

The couple said they called Democratic Mayor Thomas Lemon Wednesday night and asked him to officiate, explaining they had been "lifelong Democrats," Lemon consented, they said.

Hotel Manager Robert Thomas said he talked with the couple Wednesday night and offered the hotel's plush Chatterbox Room for the ceremony and reception. Only members of the families will be invited to the wedding.

Thomas said he was "greatly impressed by their sincerity."

Mrs. Wilson's bridal gown and trousseau were offered by department store manager H. D. Smith, who said he would make a special trip to find something appropriate.

Wealthy Gypsy Tribe Queen Succumbs

LENDINARA, Italy (UP)—Mimi Rossetto, aged queen of one of Europe's wealthiest gypsy tribes, died today leaving a dispute over her successor and a mystery over her fortune.

She died in the tradition of gypsy royalty, lying on the straw-covered floor of her tent surrounded by kinsmen and followers who had assembled from all the countries of Europe.

Tents, trailers and horse carriages of the Rossetto clan surrounded the patched tent of the dying queen in a tree-lined square of this north Italian city. Other tribes "camped" in villages and towns for 100 miles around, paying their last homage to the old queen and waiting to hail the new ruler.

The tough old gypsy queen refused to be hurried in her dying, despite the ravages of heart, kidney and circulatory ailments. Doctors said she should have been dead 10 days ago.

A "regency council" met immediately to decide on her successor and apportion her fortune, alleged to consist of gold and jewelry worth 20 million lire ($32,000).

But whether Mimi left such a fortune or told where it could be found remained a question. The gypsies who spent the final hours with the queen refused to say.

The couple said they called Democratic Mayor Thomas Lemon Wednesday night and asked him to officiate, explaining they had been "lifelong Democrats," Lemon consented, they said.

Editor's Missing Lens Is Recovered

The Zeiss telephoto lens for Contax camera which A. H. Washburn reported missing or stolen in an advertisement April 1 has been found, the Star's publisher said today.

He had a telephone call from Franklin Manor Apartments, Sarasota, Fla., this morning reporting that the lens had been found and would be returned to him. Washburn stayed at the apartment house last Christmas week with his second brother, L. M. Washburn, and family, while visiting their father, W. O. Washburn.

The editor said in the confusion of a family reunion he simply set the lens down outside the camera case instead of inside it, which is a fixed rule among cameramen—and went off without it. Anyway, the 18-year-old German lens has been recovered, and the editor today sent his check for $35 toward to be given by the apartment house to its servant staff for the recovery.

West Allies Ask Russia to Speed Talk Preparation

LONDON (UP)—The Western Allies called on the Soviets again today to speed up preparations for a summit conference by holding joint talks with the U.S., British and French ambassadors in Moscow.

In a new three-power note handed over to the Soviet Foreign Ministry in Moscow this afternoon, the West:

—Expressed "surprise" that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko had refused to meet with the three Western ambassadors together.

—Voiced the "hope" that the Kremlin would agree after all to joint meetings.

—Reiterated the earlier stand that Moscow diplomatic talks should deal not only with the time, place, agenda and composition of a pre-summit foreign ministers' conference, but also should go into the substance of the main East-West issue likely to come up at a summit policy.

Officials interpreted the latest note as a challenge to the Soviets to state squarely whether they still want preparatory talks on a summit meeting.

The couple said they called Democratic Mayor Thomas Lemon Wednesday night and asked him to officiate, explaining they had been "lifelong Democrats," Lemon consented, they said.

Leggett to Die on May 16, Faubus Orders sons will have to file returns but won't owe any taxes. About 38,000 persons were in that category last year.

The income tax division has no figures on the number of persons in the different income tax levels who paid taxes last year. The only such figures available were compiled in 1949, said Bearden, and economics have changed considerably since then. He estimated, however, that 80 per cent of Arkansas residents have incomes of $10,000 a year or less.

Taxes Increased
Figure compiled by the Legislative Council research staff show a single person in the $10,000 income bracket will pay $162.50 in taxes this year, compared to $105.00 under the old tax law. A married person in the same class with two children will pay $134.00 this year, rather than the $86.00 paid under the old law.

A single man with an income of $5,000 will pay $42.50 this year. Last year he would have paid $20. A married man with two children in the same category will pay $13.00. Last year he was exempt. In the $3,000 income group, a single man would have paid $2.00.

Payers Cooperative
State Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney said he has found taxpayers "very cooperative" this year. There has been a "mountain" of complaint about the increased taxes, he said, which are roughly double in comparison to the old taxes.

"In comparison with what it would bring in, I don't think a withholding system is feasible at this time," Cheney said. "As the state becomes more industrialized, it will become feasible, and a study will have to be made on a pay-as-you-go system."

A withholding system similar to the federal one would be too complicated now, he said, because many workers are in the state for just a few months out of a year, and they would file for refunds and they would file for refunds which would complicate the system.

Unsigned Checks
He said the income tax division has found many persons fail to sign the checks they send when they pay the tax, or else send their money in a separate envelope from the income tax returns. "Taxpayers should understand their remittance must accompany their returns and be in by May 15," he said.

The returns are available at county revenue offices and the income tax division at the state capital.

of two sisters on a lonely country road. Leggett had clubbed one of the girls and dragged her into the trunk of his car. He told police he had killed her.

It was during the investigation of the rape case that he confessed to the King killing.

A Pulaski circuit court jury found Leggett guilty, and the court ordered electrocution. Meninger's Psychiatrists
A team of psychiatrists from famed Meningers Clinic at Topeka, Kans., examined Leggett last July and told the governor the condemned man was insane at the time of the crime and at the time of the examination. Fausch granted a stay of execution and ordered Leggett returned to the state hospital for re-examination.

Other stays followed.

The medical staff reported for a second time that Leggett was sane at the time of the murder.

Leggett's attorney sought without success to keep the case in court under a 1957 law passed by the legislature known as the "post conviction act."

The final act of the Supreme Court was taken last March 31, in an opinion by Justice George Rose Smith. Fausch received the mandate from the high tribunal last Friday.

Boy Attacks Boy Attacks, 5-Weeks-Old

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (UP)—Police Chief E.D. Condon said today that a 6-year-old boy had confessed taking 5-week-old Sandra Ann Carrick out of her crib and kicking her to death.

Condon refused to give the boy's name and said the boy does not know Sandra Ann is dead. He said the boy's parents do not intend to tell him he is a murderer until they have consulted a psychiatrist.

Nor do Sandra Ann's parents know that the boy has confessed kicking their daughter. They left Wednesday for Oshkosh, Wis., to bury her.

The father, David Leroy Carrick, is stationed at Kingsville Naval Air Station.

The boy went in to play with the baby while her mother was hanging up clothes in the back yard.

"While he was playing with her in the crib, he hurt her," Condon said. "He became panicky, wrapped diapers around her, took her outside and kicked her."

"We haven't told him yet that the child is dead and his parents don't want to tell him until they have consulted a psychiatrist."

"They were just as shocked as anyone else. He has shown no remorse for what he did—just asked a time or two whether the baby was all right."

Sandra Ann's mother found her lying in the brush 100 yards from her home. She rushed her to a hospital where she died within 30 minutes Tuesday.

"I put it more in the category of an accident than pure meanness," Condon said. "I think he

Thousands See Firing of Vanguard

By UNITED PRESS

The firing of the Thor-Vanguard rocket Wednesday night was seen by hundreds of persons who had never before witnessed a missile launching. Here's what it looked like to some of them:

George Athanas, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, attending a convention at Miami Beach: "At first it looked like a real bright star with a lot of stardust around it, only it was moving..."

Gene Hogan, Miami Beach hotel public relations man: "First I thought it was a star, but it had a hazy circle of light around it, like a halo, and it seemed to be moving toward the east very fast. Then somebody in the crowd said 'That's a rocket!' and a few people clapped their hands and cheered."

Carl Kramer, United Press Newspictures executive at Chicago, was in an Air Force plane at about 5,000 feet altitude, 16 miles from the Cape Canaveral launching site.

"The entire area of the ground around it looked as though it had caught fire. The missile began to rise. The tail flame turned from red to orange, then to yellow as the missile went higher. We could almost feel it when the second stage kicked in, high in the sky. There was a brilliant flash. Then the vapor trail began to show. There were two points of light flame in the air. It looked like two rockets. Then only one spot of brilliant, bright blue flame was visible. The vapor trail made spirals that looked like gigantic smoke rings from below."

Cheryl Crane May Learn Fate Today

B. VERNON SCOTT
United Press Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Cheryl Crane, Lana Turner's 14-year-old daughter, who may learn her fate Thursday, has been spending the past two and one-half weeks in Los Angeles Juvenile Hall.

Cheryl, who knew little discipline as the daughter of a glamorous movie star, has been on a rigid schedule from 6:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m.

Dressed in a cotton print dress (the institution's uniform) and plain cotton undergarments, the girl who "knifed" Johnny Stompano to death is a member of a 19-girl unit ranging in age from 11 to 18.

In place of the spacious mansion she has known all her life, Cheryl lives in a 6 by 12-foot cubicle, in which she is locked nightly. She makes her own bed and helps cleaning chores in the brick and stucco building which is her temporary home.

From 9 a. m. until 3 in the afternoon, Cheryl attends school classes with other teenagers in her group.

"Cheryl gets along beautifully with the other girls," says senior counselor (matron) Evelyn Cromwell. "She's not the least bit snobbish and treats the others properly. She has a high behavior and scholastic report—a 'B' minus. Hardly anyone gets an 'A.'"

"She seems quite well adjusted, and takes part in the games and craft projects. You might call her just became panicky. He is not responsible for his actions."

"But there is no doubt that he did it."

Wright-Williams
Pledge Vows

On Friday Evening, April 18, 1958 at 6 o'clock in the First Christian Church of Hope, Arkansas, Miss Edna Earle Wright of Hope and William Ray Williams son of Mrs. Inez Williams and the late Alva Williams Sr. of Texarkana, Arkansas were united in Holy matrimony.

A white arch entwined with greenery and pedestal baskets of white calla lilies formed the background for the impressive double ring ceremony. On either side of the arch, burned branched candles. The Rev. William E. Harris, Pastor of the First Christian Church of Hope, performed the nuptials. Howard Lewis Wright, brother of the bride and Travis Dale Hunt, cousin of the groom, lighted the candles.

Luther Hollomon, organist, provided a program of nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Maxine White who sang, "I Love you Truly." As the couple knelt for the benediction, Mrs. White softly sang, "The Lord's Prayer."

The traditional wedding marches were used for the recessional and professional.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white length gown of imported Chantilly lace fashioned with a molded bodice and buttoned in the back with tiny satin covered buttons. The low ruffled neckline was outlined with seed pearls and sequin trim. The long fitted sleeves tapered to lily points over the hands, and the bouffant skirt of accordian pleated tulle with deep insertions of lace fell gracefully in deep folds. Her fingertip illusion veil fell from a lace coronet embroidered with tiny seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid, surrounded by lily white carnations.

Miss Michelle Core, cousin of the bride and groom served as maid of honor. She wore a dress of rose-brown taffeta, also identical to the bridesmaids. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Kenneth Leslie of Texarkana and Miss Betty Ann Wilson of Searcy. They wore identical dresses of pink taffeta, and carried aqua carnations, with matching aqua fashioned of taffeta and tulle.

Johnny Palford of Texarkana served as best man. Groomsmen were Gus Kennedy and Maurice Orr of Texarkana, Texas. The bride's mother chose a dress of blue lace over blue taffeta. She wore matching hat and accessories. The groom's mother wore a dress of gray lace over pink taffeta. Her hat was of matching pink satin. Each pinned a corsage of pink carnations at her shoulder.

For travel, the bride selected a frock of beige imported linen with matching coat. She pinned at her shoulder the orchid from her bridal bouquet. After a wedding trip the couple will reside in Texarkana, Arkansas.

Mrs. Billy Campbell
Recent Bride Complimented

Miss Betty Milliner, Mrs. Perry Smith, Mrs. Joe Harmon and the ladies of the Baptist Church were hostesses at a bridal shower Friday night, April 18, 1958 at the home of Miss Milliner honoring Mrs. Billy Campbell recent bride. A white carnation corsage was presented to Mrs. Campbell by Miss Betty Milliner.

The guests were greeted at the door by the hostesses, and games played with the prize going to the honoree.

The many gifts were opened and viewed by the guests. Refreshments were served by Miss Betty Milliner, Mrs. Joe Harmon and Mrs. Gordon Milliner from a table covered with a lace cloth.

On the buffet was a large arrangement of white and purple gladiolus interspersed with greenery.

On either end of the table was a cake decorated with white and red edging and the inscription, "Linda and Billy" in red. Punch was served from the opposite end of the table.

Twenty-one guests were present, and many friends sent gifts who were unable to attend.

Junior Daffodil

DOROTHY DIX

Education's Torpedoed
By Cupid's Bow, Arrow

Dear Dorothy Dix: When I graduated from high school four years ago I didn't have the money to go on to college. So I got a job, saved the money and how can I afford a college education — the dream of my life. The job I have is an interesting one with a future, but not as promising for me as in group arranging.

Winning entries in the land division were: Carolyn Powell of the 6th grade won 1st place; Gary Don Jones 5th grade, 2nd place; group — arranging, Ann Walton, Myrtle Cox and Carla Purdie from the 5th grade won 3rd place. In the Sea division, Gary Dean Clark of the 5th grade won 1st place; Judy Bratcher, Janette Moody and Ginger Sooter of the fifth grade won 2nd place. Judy Bennett of the 6th grade won 3rd place.

Winners of the first and second place in each division will have entries in the Flower Show.

Judges for the elimination contest were Mrs. Jud Martindale and Mrs. Homer Jones.

Refreshments were served by the sponsors.

WMS of First Baptist
Met in Kent Home

The Business Women's Circle No. 1 of the First Baptist Church met at 7 p.m. Monday in the home of Mrs. Lester Kent on the Lewisville Road for a business social meeting which was climaxed by a delicious chicken supper.

At the close of the business session, Mrs. M. S. Bates taught the last chapter in the study course book, "Look, Look the Cities."

There were 13 members present to enjoy the lovely occasion.

Ladies Attend SW District
U. D. C. Meeting

Mrs. Joe Battle of Fulton, Mrs. Sam Strong and Mrs. Harry Whitworth of Hope attended the Southwest District United Daughters of the Confederacy meeting held in Texarkana at the Coffee Shop on Tuesday afternoon.

At this meeting, Mrs. Sam Strong was elected first vice-president.

Oglesby 6th Grade News

The Sixth Grade of Oglesby School enjoyed a talk on Japan by Mrs. E. P. Young Jr., on Tuesday afternoon, April 22. Mrs. Young and her husband were stationed in Japan with the armed forces for several months during World War Two, and Mrs. Young gave a most informative and entertaining talk on the customs and ways of living of the Japanese people.

She displayed kimono, wooden clogs, socks, and a hat purchased in Japan and allowed some of the children to model these native costumes.

Paintings by Japanese artists depicting the farming practices and home life of the Japanese were also displayed by Mrs. Young. The boys and girls who are studying Japan in their Social Studies were allowed to ask questions after the talk.

Hospital Notes

Memorial
Admitted: Mrs. James B. Caldwell, Hope.

Discharged: Mrs. F. L. Beville, Rt. 5, Nashville; Billy Mosier, Fulton, Rt. 1; Mrs. Ernest May, Rt. 4, Hope; Mrs. A. B. McCain and baby girl, Rt. 4, Hope.

It would be for a college man. In the meantime, I met a girl, fell in love, and we're now looking longingly at wedding rings in every jeweler's shop. The point to be decided is: college or matrimony. Can you help? ADRIAN
Dear Adrian: Looks like Cupid with his bow and arrow has shot the college education idea full of holes. It's extremely doubtful that you'd put your heart and soul into books, when there's an adorable blonde occupying the foreground. So I suggest that you do what thousands of other young men are doing. Get married, and continue your book learnin' at night. This has disadvantages, it's true, but anything worth having is worth a sacrifice. Of course Uncle Sam will step in shortly to take his bite out of your life. You'll have a few tough years ahead, but in the end things will doubtless work out very nicely for you. Best of luck.

Dear Dorothy Dix: During the work show-up I've been out of a job and to tide myself over am taking care of my girl friend's baby. The only trouble is, she works the graveyard shift, and I'm along at night with her husband and child. Her husband is like a brother to me, but my parents feel it isn't proper for me to be there. I think they're taking a silly attitude, myself. After all, I'm 18. DOVEY
Dear Dovey: The situation is certainly one that would start gossip tongues wagging. Let Daddy take care of the child at night, and you arrive bright and early in the morning to take over. It may be a bit inconvenient for you, but your reputation is surely worth a little sacrifice.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm engaged to a 27-year-old boy. I say that because "boy" is exactly the way he behaves. During the year we've been engaged we've parted our cash assets to pay his bills and have bought a few furnishings for our home. Because I won't see him every night in the week, he's getting cranky, jealous and mean. Whenever we have an argument he goes out and gets drunk. Now he's asking me to return the things we bought together. I'm so soft-hearted I can't maintain an argument and at present feel I may be at fault for not understanding him better. JUDITH

Dear Judith: "Soft-headed" is the word for you, not "soft-hearted." And "childish" is a better description of your fiancé than "boyish." Get out while you can — even at the cost of a few end tables.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a desperate freshman. My parents won't let me watch TV from Monday through Thursday. I always have my homework done before the programs go on, but they tell me to stay in my room and read. I only want to see two programs a

Burns Fatal to Crossett Woman

BASTROP, La. (UP)— Mrs. Maggie Middlebrooks, 87, of near Crossett, Ark., died in a hospital here Monday night from burns suffered in her home earlier in the day.

Richard Jones, operator of a Crossett millinery, said Mrs. Middlebrooks was burned when her clothing caught fire from an open gas flame heater at her rural home.

Dear L. L. Well, looks like we have a hopeless case on our hands, doesn't it? For your own satisfaction, I'll say that your folks are maintaining tough rules. For a girl who maintains high grades and is a help around the house, I would say two TV programs a week is a reasonable amount of viewing. However, mother and dad have the last word.

Atoms for Peace Week Designated

LITTLE ROCK (UP)— Gov. Faubus signed a proclamation Monday which designated April 21-28 "Atoms for Peace" week in Arkansas.

Faubus spoke at an "Atoms for Peace" exhibit sponsored by the United States Atomic Energy Commission. The proclamation urged observance of the week by Arkansas residents and suggested they acquaint themselves with potential developments of the atom in peacetime.

Victory HD Club Meets
With Mrs. A. L. Turner

The Victory Home Demonstration Club met on Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. A. L. Turner with Mrs. L. J. Duke as hostess.

Mrs. Johnnie Hooks, president, called the meeting to order and gave the devotional. During the business session Mrs. Turner read the minutes and gave the treasurer's report. Roll call was answered with "Something I Have Done or

Will Do to My Home"

Mrs. Bill Bolton gave an interesting talk on "Improvement and Better Housing."

A salad course was served to twenty four members and three guests, Mrs. J. T. McFar, Miss Sara Jane McGill and Mrs. Lyle Marlar of Houston, Texas.

Tri-Service Club
Has Business Meeting
The monthly business meeting of the Tri-Service Club was held on Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Adam Guthrie Jr.

The president, Mrs. C. R. Gray, presided. The minutes of the March meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Bill Oates. Mrs. Bob Yarbrough, treasurer, gave a report. Reports of committees were heard.

Cake and coffee was served by the hostess.

Other members included Mrs. Bob Reynolds, Mrs. J. R. Bemis, Mrs. Jim Morris, Mrs. J. T. Worthington and Mrs. Dudley Rouse.

Miss Amelia Harrell
Honored

Dr. and Mrs. Jack Harrell honored their daughter, Miss Amelia Harrell, with a pre-birthday party celebrating her seventeenth birthday on Friday evening at the Legion. That was festive with blue and white streamers and clusters of balloons that hung from the rafters.

The fireplace mantel was banked with dogwood. Burning blue candles on the small tables and blue lights cast a soft glow over the scene. Dancing and games were enjoyed. During the evening pictures were made by Lee Ashbrook.

The eighty six guests were served cold drinks, cookies and sandwiches from the bar decorated with dogwood and blue candles.

Prescott Students
Enter Science Fair

Mrs. Sid Purdie and Mrs. Frank Hultum Jr. accompanied twenty students of the Prescott schools that won blue ribbons at the local Science Fair to Arkadelphia Saturday where they entered their projects at the District Science Fair held at Henderson State Teachers College.

Tom Barham placed second in the biological division of the high schools and Rita Morris placed second with her two white rats that illustrate the effects of nicotine on the body. Jane Harris won third place in the Junior High School division with her "World of the Honeybee."

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Haynie, Glenn and Joe of Magnolia and Mr. and Mrs. Weston Green and son of Rossion were the guests Saturday night of Mr. and Mrs. Brozie Haynie.

Mrs. Alice Pittman and Jim Dewoody had as their weekend guests, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Walker and family of Magnolia.

Miss Opal Daniel of Hope spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hale and Miss Opal Mallock.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Worthington and Jerry were the guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Compton of Magnolia.

Mrs. Jim Nelson and Jane spent the weekend in Marshall, Texas with her mother, Mrs. A. E. Brazee, who accompanied them home for a visit.

Mrs. L. L. Buchanan, Marla Buchanan and Juanita Ruth Taylor attended the Science Fair at HSTC, Arkadelphia on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hamilton were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Hamilton and Howard of Shreveport, La.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Tackett and daughter, Muriel Dean and Evelyn returned Saturday from Augusta, Ga. where they spent last week visiting their son and brother, Pvt. E2 Terrell L. Tackett who is stationed at Fort Gordon.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Cassidy of Magnolia and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Black of Texarkana were among those from out of town who attended burial services for Earl Fore on Saturday at DeAnn cemetery.

Man, Son Shoot It Out With Police

DANA POINT, Calif. (UP)—An unemployed carpenter and his two sons trained to strict obedience—shot it out with sheriff's deputies Monday night in a battle which brought death to three persons.

When the firing had stopped, the father, Charles Seyfert, 30, Tucson, Ariz., his son, Tommy, 10, and Sheriff Deputy Robert Schultz, 34, Garden Grove, 1st dead. Another son and a second deputy were wounded critically.

The stage for the blazing gun battle was set when Seyfert's wife, Mrs. Arlene Seyfert, 34, and 4-year-old daughter, Roberta, escaped from the family's dilapidated, 20-year-old bus at her sister's home in nearby San Clemente.

Mrs. Seyfert described her husband as a mental case and asked Mrs. Mary Phillips to ask sheriff's deputies to stop the bus in which Seyfert drove away.

Deputy Schultz and his partner, Edward G. Johnson, stopped the bus on radio orders at a street in this expensive residential area.

Johnson said Seyfert opened the door of the bus and came out holding a .22 caliber pistol which he dropped on orders of the two sheriff's deputies.

Seyfert's oldest boy, Allyn, leaped from the vehicle, grabbed the gun and opened fire. He was cut down by Johnson and fell to the street critically wounded.

Then, 10-year-old Tommy grabbed the gun from his brother's hand and fired. Schultz was hit in the chest, and Johnson shot the boy in the face.

Seyfert joined the battle with the same dropped pistol, fired at Johnson and was cut down by the officer's bullets—sprawling backwards into the door of the bus.

Johnson, wounded with two bullets in him, dragged himself back to the patrol car and radioed for aid. Fifty officers answered his call.

Officers said the boys apparently took up the gun battle because their father, described by his wife as a religious fanatic, who had trained his sons to strict obedience, had told them to shoot if anyone tries to stop them.

Inside the bus, officers found two other rifles and guns brought by Seyfert from Arizona. He was looking for work in California.

Arkansas Woman Killed in Missouri

BUTLER, Mo. (UP)—An Arkansas woman was killed, and her husband and daughter injured Monday when their car crashed into a bridge abutment on U.S. 41 eight miles south of here.

The highway patrol identified the victim as Mrs. Agnes Dorsett, 62, of Batesville, Ark. Mrs. Dorsett died en route to a Kansas City hospital.

Injured were the victim's daughter, Mrs. Morie Seemel, 37, of North Little Rock, Ark., and husband, Mark T. Dorsett, 75, of Batesville.

Mrs. Seemel was listed in fair condition today at a Kansas City hospital. Dorsett's condition also was described as fair by attendants at another hospital.

Officers said the accident occurred when Mrs. Seemel, who was driving, attempted to pass a truck.

Children's Colony Contract Awarded

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—The Arkansas Children's Colony board awarded a contract for building the institution Monday to the Nabholz Construction Corp., on a bid of $1,972,328.

Supt. David Ray of the Colony said the project included construction of an administration building, a clinic, a vocational building series, eight cottages, which would house 32 children each, a laundry, a kitchen and two staff residences.

Ray said construction was scheduled to start in "the next week or 10 days."

The Colony will be located at Conway.

Job Test Failure Means 90-Day Wait

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—The Arkansas Merit System Council agreed Monday that applicants who fail a job test will have to wait 90 days before they can take a new exam.

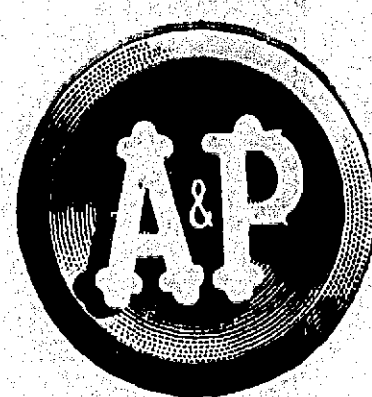

The delay, however, does not apply to positions for which no hiring register or list has been established. This involves technical jobs, mainly John Hogue, the merit system supervisor, said.

Those who failed exams in the past could take them again immediately.

The council said registers for technical jobs compiled up to April of last year will no longer be used. That means, Hogue said, those who were on the older registers must take new exams to qualify for state jobs.

BOATERS SEEK RECORD

LONDON (UP)—The Wolverhampton Wanderers hope to tie an all-time English soccer league record by winning the season finale Saturday. The Wanderers shut out Manchester United, 4-0, Monday night and now are only two points short of the all-time season high of 40 points in the standings.

Porkers Go Through Scrimmage

FAYETTEVILLE (UP) — Coach Frank Boyles ran his Arkansas Razorbacks through a 45-minute stadium scrimmage Wednesday and afterward sang the praises of his Red team.

The squads convinced themselves they can use his new winged T offense and "I believe the players are sold on the system."

The former Missouri mentor said the stadium drills enabled movies to be taken from atop the press box. Six units alternated during the scrimmage.

Boyles said the offense of the Red, or No. 1 team, looked "real good."

Backed by James Monroe of the White team, but said he could not effectively evaluate its performance.

Calls Meet to Rid Space of Dead Missiles

By FRANK GRUBER

XXVII

WASHINGTON (UP)—Director John P. Hagen of Project Vanguard called today for an international conference to prevent space from being filled with dead and useless satellites.

Hagen told the House Space Committee the international conference should establish by treaty if necessary limitations in what can be put out in space and what kind of radio transmitters may be used.

He also disclosed that the Navy plans to launch an "improved Vanguard" rocket carrying a 40-pound satellite by the end of the year. He said the "next step"

It had been 11 years since Tom Weber had visited the headquarters of Lobo. There were improvements, he noted. A wing had been built onto the ranch house, the office building had been added, as had the cook-house.

He dismounted near the main house, threw the reins over his horse's head and walked to the veranda. He knocked loudly on the door.

Juanita came to the door and looked inquiringly at Weber.

"Mrs. Alderton?" Weber said briefly.

"Senora Alder..." began Juanita, then her face broke. "But it is the young Señor Tomas! It is a long time since you have come to this ranch!"

Lily left the table and strode to the living room, into which Juanita was ushering Weber.

"You came!" she exclaimed. "You were serious, then, about about coming to work here?"

"I was never more serious in my life," Weber replied. "In fact, I worked for you last night after you left. You lost about 1,000 head of stock—"

"Oh, no!" wailed Lily. "Not again!"

"It's all right, I know where they went and we'll charge them against Pete Rawlins' account."

"Of course, please—I was just having breakfast. Join me."

"I can eat with the hands."

"Don't be absurd! Juanita, breakfast for Mr. Weber."

Delightedly, Juanita made for the kitchen. Weber, ill at ease, followed Lily to the dining room.

"You're sure it was Rawlins?" Lily asked as she poured coffee for Weber.

He nodded. "I gave them some-after that would be the launching of a Vanguard with a more powerful first stage that could hurt into orbit a satellite weighing anywhere from 200 to 1,000 pounds.

Hagen reported on Saturday that a 3.25-pound sphere launched by Vanguard March 17 will keep on circling the earth for at least 200 years.

He told the space committee today that U.S. scientists are thinking about how to deal with the problem of cluttering space around the planet with dead satellites.

Although only the three American satellites are still aloft, "the number in a year or two will be far beyond the fingers of two hands," Hagen said.

He said the problem of bringing down a satellite in a stable orbit is "very difficult."

"Even if you hit it with a missile you don't bring it down," Hagen said. "The small pieces continue around the earth in orbit."

thing to think about. And there'll be some more today. I would like a fresh horse, the fastest you have on the place."

"That'll be Midnight. He's cool black and the fastest horse we've had since I've been on Lobo. The only trouble is he's not broken too well."

"He sounds like just what I'll need." He inclined his head toward the ranch yard. "They're a bunch of men loafing around."

"Jeff fired Fred Case yesterday and I guess there's no one to tell them what to do. I'll have to do it unless..."

He shook his head. "I didn't hire on for that job."

She rose to her feet. "I'll have Midnight roped and saddled."

Marshall Eads was standing in the doorway of the bank when Mike Denver came out of his saloon.

"It's almost 10," Denver said as he came up. "Are the stockholders here yet?"

"They're not coming," replied Eads easily. "I sent word to them that there wasn't going to be a meeting."

"Then you can just send word again that there is going to be a meeting. Or better yet, I'll send word myself."

"You'll just waste your time, Mike," Eads said. He took a folded sheet of paper from his pocket, unfolded it and held it up for Denver to read.

Denver took a bare glance at the paper. He grunted "So you got to Alderton..."

"He got to me. As a matter of fact, I picked him up last night. Right outside your saloon. Seems your bartender gave him a Mickey Finn. He had a nice sleep, but about six o'clock this morning he woke up and in addition to feeling very badly in general, he seemed to have a slight hate for his former partner, Mike Denver. That's why he gave me this stock proxy to vote."

Rawlins rode into Barkerville with the gunfighter, Ord, at his side. He went directly to Mike Denver's real estate office. He found his brother-in-law seated at his desk, a scowl on his face.

"Hey," said Rawlins, "you don't look so good."

"I've had a little setback."

"Well, I've got something to cheer you up. We got close to 1,100 head of prime beef last night."

"Denver barely nodded at acknowledgment. "Who'd you bring with you?"

"New man. Ord."

"I've got a job for him."

"Who this time? Charlie Weber?"

He drew a deep breath. "Alderton."

Rawlins' forehead creased in a frown. "Alderton's a big man. Not just here. You took him around the state, gave him a build-up."

Denver regarded his brother-in-law blandly a moment, then he got to his feet and went to the wall map of Lobo Valley. "I think it's time I explained the plan to you, Pete."

"You don't have to. You said you were after the whole thing."

"But you don't know how I've planned it. Look, here's Lobo, the key to the whole thing. The Barker girl put up the dam there."

That's fine. It changed the valley from a desert to the best grazing land in the state."

"It cuts across a corner of the Weber fellow's layout."

"Exactly. That's why I had you put that man Hopkins on his place. Now I'll point out what I meant by contour of the land. The front end of Weber's place is 20 feet higher than the rear. In other words, there's a slope away from the Barkerville road. A little dam put right here on Weber's little corner would turn the river completely. The water would spill away over Weber's place and down to—"

"My ranch!" cried Rawlins. (To Be Continued)
